Council incumbent trio re-running

Atkins-Salazar, Schaefer, Stillman announce bids

Kevin L. Hoover
MAD RIVER UNION

ARCATA – The three incumbent Arcata City Council members whose seats are open for election this fall are jointly announcing their intention to run for another term.

Vice Mayor Stillman was first of the three incumbents to announce, one that got straight to the point.

“I am pleased and excited to announce that I will be running for re-election to the Arcata City Council in the upcoming election on Nov. 5, 2024,” she said.

Councilmember Sarah Schaefer was next, with a full news release (see page 6).

ARCATA FIRE DISTRICT
ARCATA – On Tuesday, July 2 at 1:38 a.m., the Arcata Fire District was dispatched to a commercial vehicle fire on SR-299 at exit 3A. The first arriving unit stated that it was not a vehicle on fire, but foam blocks covered in plastic on the side of the highway were heavily involved.

The initial response only dispatched two engines and a duty officer, however additional resources were ordered immediately. Two water tenders were dispatched from Blue Lake Volunteer Fire and Fieldbrook Volun-

Tiny houses, emergency housing reviewed

Daniel Mintz
MAD RIVER UNION

HUMBOLDT – Humboldt County’s quest to reduce homelessness and provide more housing is taking a major step with ordinances that diversify and expand opportunities.

New strategies for achieving the goals downscale and simplify residential development, making it far less costly.

Draft ordinances that regulate tiny house village and emergency housing development were reviewed by the county’s Planning Commission at its June 27 meeting.

Megan Acevedo, lead planner on the new laws, highlighted the county General Plan’s calls for creation of tiny house villages and “alternative lodge parks,” a wide-ranging emergency housing category that includes tents and membrane structures.

Included in the tiny house ordinance is allowance for “dependent unit villages” with shared bathroom and kitchen areas.

She said the intent of the tiny house village ordinance is to “encourage housing diversity and expand lower-cost housing developments in Humboldt County,” including “tiny homes and movable tiny homes.”

Tiny houses are defined in the ordinance as “detached, self-contained units” that are no bigger than 400 square feet.

Tiny house and dependent unit villages will be treated like multi-family housing and will be principally-permitted (allowed by right) in higher density residential and mixed use areas that have water and sewer service.

They’ll also be allowed in lower-density residential and rural mixed use zones with

Free dental, vision and medical services at Adorni

CALIFORNIA CAREFORCE
HUMBOLDT – For the first time in Humboldt County, California Care-Force will offer free dental, vision and medical care to underserved and underinsured individuals and families in Humboldt and surrounding counties. The free clinic will take place on July 12 and 13 starting at 7 a.m. at the Adorni Center, 1011 Waterfront Dr. in Eureka. More than 350 volunteer healthcare professionals from throughout California are expected to provide needed care for an anticipated 700 people. Volunteers will provide the following services at no cost:

- Dental: extractions, fillings, cleanings and X-rays
- Vision: eye examinations and prescription glasses made on-site
- Medical: glucose and blood pressure screening, physicals, general exams

All services are free; clinic participants do not need proof of insurance, employment, income, residency, immigration status or an ID to receive them. A vision lab will produce free prescription eyeglasses on-site. Dentistry will include X-rays, cleanings, fillings, and extractions. Medical doctors will provide consultations, and general health exams. “I am excited to lead this effort to provide free dental and vision services for our community,” said Dr. Tom Lewis, chairperson of the Humboldt Clinic. “The need for services is so great,” continued Dr. Lewis, “There’s nothing like providing for those who are in need.” All clinic services will be offered on a first-come, first-serve basis, as capacity allows. Patients will line up outside and will then be directed inside the clinic based on the service they wish to receive. California CareForce is a registered charitable organization tax exempt under Section 501(c)(3) of the IRS Code. EIN 45-2408171. Visit the patient FAQ page at californiacareforce.org or call (916) 749-4170. Our clinics are made possible by the generous donations from our sponsors. We’d like to give a special thank you to the following: United Concordia Dental, North Coast Grant-making Partnership, National Vision, Area 1 Agency on Aging, and HUUF Endowment Fund for their support. Professional volunteers are still needed in numerous capacities including oral surgeons, general dentists, dental hygienists, pharmacists, medical doctors, ophthalmologists and optometrists. We’re also in need of general volunteers to assist in all areas of the clinic – no healthcare experience necessary! For more information on volunteering, receiving services or charitable giving please visit californiacareforce.org.

Explore Arcata with free A&MRTS bus rides through July

CITY OF ARCATA
ARCATA – The City of Arcata Transportation Division is excited to announce that free bus rides through the Arcata and Mad River Transit System (A&MRTS) will continue through July! Riders on the A&MRTS have already been able to enjoy free bus rides all of June, now the city is excited to continue those free rides through the end of July! The city encourages Arcata residents and visitors to take the bus to run errands and to explore Arcata’s neighborhoods, businesses, parks and recreational spaces. The goal of this program is to increase ridership for A&MRTS by showing how easy it is to use the transit system. A summer month was selected for this program as historically the ridership is low in summer months because schools, including Cal Poly Humboldt, are not in session. Last year, there was an approximately 20 percent increase in ridership during the implementation of this program in June and July of 2023 compared to 2022. We are very excited about increasing that percentage in 2024. Funding to support this program comes from the Low Carbon Transit Operations Program (LCTOP). Free bus rides in Arcata will be in effect through Wednesday, July 31 with A&MRTS offering transit routes that run Monday through Saturday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. during the summer months. For more information regarding bus routes and schedules, visit hta.org/agencies/arcatamadrivert or call (707) 822-3775.

Great reasons to get the 'ol sewer lateral inspected

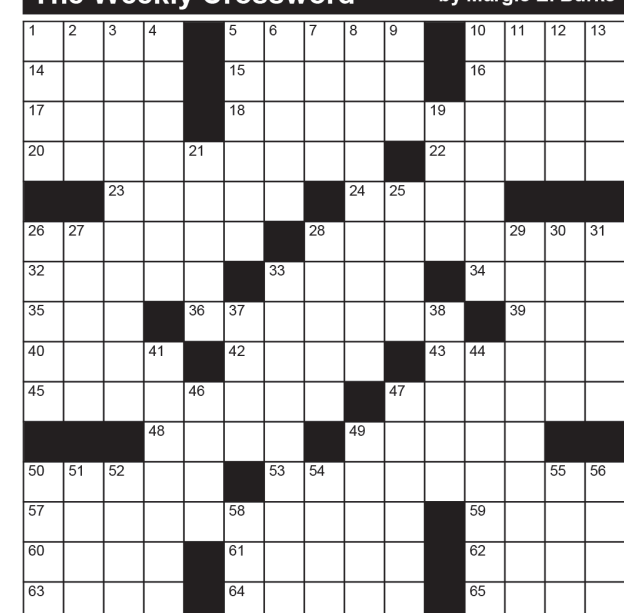

CITY OF ARCATA
ARCATA – The City of Arcata would like to remind the community that the Sewer Lateral Certification Program is still active and requires that private sewer laterals are inspected for leaks before a property can be sold. The Arcata City Council approved Ordinance 1461 in 2015. The ordinance includes provisions to protect groundwater, creek, watershed and bay water quality by putting a routine inspection and repair system in place.

this time, the damage is done. Raw sewage can overflow not just into people’s homes, but into the street and waterways leading to the bay. Sewer lateral inspections and necessary repairs need to be completed prior to the close of escrow. Additionally, a sewer cleanout must be installed in the public right of way or public utility easement, if one is not already in place. A Private Sewer Lateral Certificate will be provided by the City Building and Engineering Department following repair or replacement of the lateral. Property owners can post a bond or deposit to allow escrow to close and get a time extension of up to one year to complete necessary repairs. Some property sales are exempt from this ordinance. Exemptions include when property is transferred between family members and there is no reassessment of property value or when the sewer laterals have already been repaired or replaced within the last 25 years. For details on exceptions and more information about the new time of sale provision, contact the City of Arcata Building and Engineering Department at (707) 825-2128 or engineering@cityofarcata.org.

The ordinance requires the inspection of sewer laterals for buildings and homes that are over 25 years old when the property is being sold, when there are building permit valuations exceeding $30,000 or due to the addition of two or more fixture units. A significant amount of water that enters the city sewer system during wet weather comes from leaky private sewer laterals and from roof downspouts and sump pumps that drain directly into sanitary sewer laterals. The laterals are small pipes which connect a building’s plumbing to the public sewer main and deteriorate over time, allowing roots and rainwater to infiltrate the pipes. Most laterals are not replaced until after the property owner experiences a sewer backup. By MCKINLEYVILLE MUNICIPAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE has released its meeting schedule for the year. The McKMAC typically meets on the fourth Wednesday of the month at 6 p.m. at McKinleyville Middle School, 2285 Central Ave. The July meeting is canceled. The regular August meeting is canceled, but there will be a special meeting on Wednesday, Aug. 21. Humboldt County Public Works Director Tom Mattson is scheduled to give a presentation on the Hiller Road Pop Up project. The idea behind the project is to temporarily reconfigure part of the road to calm traffic and make it more pedestrian friendly. At the Sept. 25 meeting, the committee may hear a presentation from the McKinleyville Family Resource Center. On Oct. 23, the McKMAC will hold a joint meeting with the McKinleyville Community Services District Board of Directors. In November, the regular meeting will be moved up a week due to Thanksgiving and will take place on Nov. 20. The December meeting is canceled.

More details on the $1m housing grant for Arcata

CITY OF ARCATA
ARCATA – The City of Arcata has been awarded a $1 million grant to promote building housing in the community.
The City of Arcata is excited to announce that it was awarded a $1 million PRO Housing Grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The funding will be used for three projects all with the goal of reducing barriers to producing housing.
The first project will update zoning to conform to the General Plan 2045, which will streamline permitting and promote infill densification. The second will allow the city to boost the development of accessory dwelling units (ADUs) with a new zoning ordinance that will clarify ADU regulations and with a low-interest ADU construction loan program for qualifying owners.
The final project will be to adopt form-based code using objective standards to regulate high-density development in one or more Infill Opportunity Zones identified in the City’s 2019 Housing Element.
“The PRO Housing Grant will enable us to address critical housing needs in our community” said David Loya, director of Community Development. “By streamlining processes and providing financial support for ADU construction, we are taking significant steps towards creating a more accessible and affordable housing market in Arcata.”
The timeline for the projects has not yet been determined. The city will keep the community informed with updates.

Lost Coast hiker sustains mysterious injuries

HUMBOLDT COUNTY SHERIFF’S OFFICE
SOHUM – On Tuesday, June 25 at about noon, Humboldt County Sheriff’s deputies were dispatched to Jerold Phelps Hospital in Garberville for a possible assault victim.
Upon arrival, the investigating deputy made contact with a 34-year-old male who had sustained laceration-type injuries to his arms and upper body. The injured party had been located on the Lost Coast Trail near the Petrolia area by a group of hikers who had summoned assistance.
Due to the remote location, the subject was airlifted to the hospital for treatment. Through interviews with the subject, he informed deputies that he believed he had been assaulted by an unknown person(s) but had no recollection of how his injuries were sustained.
While this case is still under investigation, there has been no information obtained thus far that would indicate any on-going risk to the public in this area.
Anyone with information about this case or related criminal activity is encouraged to call HCSO at (707) 445-7251 or the Sheriff’s Office Crime Tip line at (707) 268-2539.

The fire was fought to the point that Kneeland’s engine was released to cover the Arcata station, and Westhaven’s engine was released to cover the Mad River station. Both cover engines ran medical calls and one small 5x5 fire call during their coverage of Arcata Fire’s stations.

Arcata Fire extends our gratitude towards our mutual aid partners Humboldt Bay Fire, Blue Lake Volunteer Fire, Fieldbrook Volunteer Fire, Westhaven Volunteer Fire, CalFire Trinidad, Kneeland Volunteer Fire, Arcata Police and Caltrans.
The cause of the fire is currently unknown.
This is a reminder to the community that with the rising temperatures and dried grasses, fire season is upon us.

See you at Annie and Mary Day, meet Trent the Great

Summer is certainly here now! I hope your pets stayed safe through the Fourth of July and that you are all surviving the unusually warm weather.
We’ve pulled out the wading pool at our house and trying out some additional cooling aids at the shelter. There’s already a well-used wading pool and frozen broth pupsicles and we’re trying out a sprinkler for more cooling fun!
Starting on Saturday, the wonderful folks from Humboldt Dash and Splash will have the dock-diving pool set up at the shelter and the shelter dogs will get to play there in the mornings. They will be open to the public for a week; sign up starting Friday late afternoon for your dog to learn to dock-dive or just to have a safe swim in the pool.
Volunteers are always welcome to help set up the pool (10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Friday) and you’ll have first crack at a reservation! Partial proceeds from the event will go to the shelter’s Emergency Medical Fund.
Another fun event coming up is Annie and Mary Day in Blue Lake on Sunday.

Look for Kinetic pup Sparky, Redwood Pals and the shelter volunteers (and dogs, of course!) in the parade that starts at the Mad River Brewery at 11 a.m.
The parade goes to Perigot Park where the rest of the event continues on till 5 p.m. We will be parked in the vicinity of our friends’ mimosa booth, Bubbles and Bourbon, unteers and had a great time!
Trent started out by hopping right in the car where he rode very nicely to our volunteers’ home. He was thrilled to have a big grassy yard to run in and explored every nook and cranny, between zoomies.
The fun continued when he met a neighbor dog. He was quite polite on meeting while he assessed her play style. Once he realized she liked a running game, they had a great romp! He was a good sport about being

Big black dogs are easy to overlook but come meet Trent and see what a great dog he is! Trent is about a year and a half and weighs in at about 80 pounds. He is available through the Humboldt County Animal Shelter and appointments can be made at (707) 840-9132.
Just a reminder that the dogs and cats at the shelter come already altered, microchipped and current on their vaccinations, all included in their very low adoption fees. Compare that to a pet you get for “free” and you’ll see why adopting is the way to go!

Candidates | Nomination papers available Monday

Atkins-Salazar rounded out the trio of announcements with a news release (see page 7).
“Serving on the Arcata City Council has given me even more appreciation for our community. The diversity of views in Arcata contributes greatly to our strength and I will continue to find common ground in the issues that challenge us,” Atkins-Salazar said.
Stillman has served a total of 18 years on the City Council: four four-year terms from 1972 to 1980 (as Arcata’s first woman councilmember) and from 2006 to 2014. She was re-elected to a two-year term in 2022.
Atkins-Salazar and Schaefer were both elected to four-year terms in 2020.
Next week, the period opens for council aspirants to file nomination papers for the City Council seats.

Potential candidates must obtain the signatures of at least 20 Arcata voters to qualify for the ballot – a seemingly modest requirement that, historically, has nonetheless stymied less-than-serious aspirants and acted as an initial filter, pre-winning the pool of candidates.
Papers will be available from City Clerk Rhea Varley by appointment beginning at 9 a.m. on Monday, July 15 and running through Friday, Aug. 9 at the City Manager’s Office in City Hall, 736 F St.
Issuance of nomination papers can take up to an hour and appointments are required. To make an appointment, call (707) 822-5953.
Council candidates must:
• Be at least 18 years of age

• Be a registered voter, registered at and residing at an address within the city limits of Arcata.
The City of Arcata will hold a general municipal election on Tuesday, November 5. Three seats on the Arcata City Council will be up for election.
Also on the November ballot is a measure to increase the City’s Transactions and Use Tax. Primary arguments for or against a ballot measure must be received by the City Clerk by Friday, July 19 with rebuttal arguments due on Tuesday, July 30.
For more information on the requirements for submitting an argument for or against a ballot measure, please contact rvarley@cityofarcata.org or (707) 825-2103.
For more information, visit cityofarcata.org or call (707) 822-5953.

Housing | County Planco hears housing needs, issues

discretionary permits that require public hearings.
A public comment period had only a few speakers but the county fielded greater amounts during a previous commission workshop and in writing.
In a written comment, Nezzie Wade of the Affordable Homeless Housing Alternatives advocacy group urged the commission to take enough time to “get this right” and consider a sequential approach, tackling the tiny house ordinance first.
“We need to make sure the county can implement affordable, attainable transitional villages and housing opportunities for those who are very low and acutely low income,” she wrote.
Also focusing on the tiny house ordinance in a written comment, Colin Fiske of the Coalition for Responsible Transportation Priorities group recommends elimination of a one parking space per unit parking requirement and a density limit of 20 units.

“This is a more restrictive limit than what is already allowed in many of the zoning districts where tiny houses will be permitted, which is nonsensical,” he wrote.
Acevedo noted that the ordinance includes a density bonus provision that allows more than 20 units if five to ten percent of the units are for low- or very low-income residents, or are part of a “senior citizen housing development.”
In discussing the ordinance, commissioners focused on affordability and ease of development.
Asked about setting requirements for affordability, Planning Director John Ford said it would be allowed under an inclusionary zoning ordinance, which the county has been considering for years but hasn’t been able to adopt due to heavy opposition.
Ford said it’s vulnerable to legal challenges and is “broaching on dangerous ground.”

Expanding the types of commercial zones where tiny house complexes can be principally permitted was debated, with some commissioners concerned about displacement of commercial space.
But Ford said doing so is in line with the ordinance’s goal of “creating more opportunities for housing development,” particularly in the southern and northern areas of the county where there are “more limited” residential zonings.
There was discussion on making permitting discretionary in some commercial zones but Ford warned that “when you have discretion, you could have a roomful of people.”
Commissioners agreed to include more commercial zones in the draft but will discuss it further.
Parking requirements

also drew discussion, with Commissioner Sarah West saying she believes “the less parking, the better” and Commissioner Jerome Qiriazzi vouching for setting a parking maximum rather than a minimum.
But Commissioner Iver Skavdal said short shifting parking could be “highly impactful” and Commission Chair Thomas Mulder said some tiny house households might have more than one vehicle.
The ordinance includes alternative policies with parking reduction allowances if a tiny house village is near public transit and/or has one “bike rack” per unit.
Commissioners directed planning staff to develop additional alternatives based on the discussions, which will continue at the commission’s July 18 meeting.

HUMBOLDT CRABS

Biscotti, Sinatra, peppers & onions – that’s amore!

Italian American Heritage Night at the Crabs is always a treat. Really a treat, with six kinds of home-baked biscotti for sale, Chianti on the wine list, and not one, but two special flavors of Pellegrino at the snack bar.

Don’t forget the delicious smell of sausages, peppers and onions on the outdoor grill.

“This was the third year we’ve done it,” said Gina Luzzi, a member of the Sons and Daughters of Italy, Eureka Lodge #1274. “It seems like a natural fit to partner with the Crabs.”

The late Lou Bonomini and Ned Barsuglia would have agreed.

Bonomini coached and managed the Crabs for more than 40 years. He is often described as the team’s founder although he modestly gave credit to Eureka newspaper publisher Don O’Kane.

Barsuglia was the chief scout and head recruiter for more than 40 years.

On the evening of June 28 the Italians were out in force. Hats proclaimed “Proud to be a Sicilian” and T-shirts ranged from comments on pride in Italian heritage to comments on being married to an Italian wife.

Bunting and Italian flags fluttered everywhere and the usual rap music before the game had been replaced by recordings of Volare and other familiar tunes. The na

Crabs earn two road wins in Medford

Richard LaPreziosa
MAD RIVER UNION

ARCATA –Your Humboldt Crabs took to the road again this past weekend, and this time fared better than their last ill-fated trip from which they returned winless. On this trip they ventured to the north where they would face the Medford Rogues, a team they compete with in the Pacific Empire League.

After losing the first weekend game on Friday night by a score of 7-5, the Crabs were able to turn the tables the following night.

Center fielder Antonio Avila led off the third inning with a solo home run to start things offensively for Humboldt. Second baseman Jett Ruby, who is batting an impressive .364, also drove in three runs during the game as the Crabs were able to get the win 9-7 on Saturday night.

Then Sunday, the Crabs got another 5 innings of quality pitching from Nolan Long. He gave up only two hits and one run, while the offense exploded, scoring 14 runs on 17 hits as the Crabs won by a score of 14-2.

The series win put the Crabs up in to third place in their new league, as Medford sits in fourth and the Solano Mudcats fading into fifth.

Over the holiday, it was Solano and Humboldt battling for third place in a series at the Arcata Ball Park, where the Mudcats took the first game 10-0 and the Crabs bouncing back on Wednesday for a 7-3 win.

That set up a July 4th rubber match which saw more stellar pitching for Humboldt. Caleb Ruiz, on the mound for Humboldt, threw six scoreless innings, working himself out of multiple jams and striking out five batters.

Ruiz would reflect on his performance after the game. “My thought process was to go slower than usual. I kind of have a tendency to rush myself in bigger situations” he told me over the sound of the Crabgrass Band playing Dream On by Aerosmith. “You can’t strike everybody out and over power everybody. So I try to live low in the zone and get a ground ball if I have a guy on base.”

Bryce Stockton closed out the game for the Crabs. In the ninth inning, while protecting a 5-0 lead, Stockton gave up a home run to Solano’s second baseman, but he showed resolve and recorded the next two outs.

“You just got to turn the page. I threw a bad pitch, he hit it, and it made me a little more mad. So it kinda helped in my favor,” Stockton told me as the band had moved on to Free Bird (complete with Skynard’s opening riffs to the epic ending solo.)

The Crabs still have a chance to make their way up the standings as league play resumes at the Arcata Ball Park against the West Coast Kings this weekend, and then a showdown against the first place Healdsburg Prune Packers for three games starting July 16.

CPH, CR to launch new rodeo program

CAL POLY HUMBOLDT
HUMBOLDT – Cal Poly Humboldt and College of the Redwoods are excited to announce the launch of a new men’s and women’s rodeo program, set to launch in Fall 2024. This innovative collaboration will provide students exceptional opportunities to engage in rodeo activities while pursuing their degrees at both institutions.

CR’s rodeo program will begin as a club sport with plans to transition to a full intercollegiate athletic team. The rodeo program at Cal Poly Humboldt will launch as a competitive sports club.

In preparation for the program’s debuts, both CR and Cal Poly Humboldt plan to search for rodeo coaches and leaders. These coaches will play a pivotal role in training and mentoring student-athletes, as well as overseeing the overall management of the program.

The rodeo programs will benefit from a strategic partnership with Ferndale Fairgrounds, where both teams will practice and call home. These collaborations will provide students with access to top-notch facilities and resources, enriching their training and competitive experiences, while the pathway for students from CR to Humboldt will be seamless.

This collaboration will also deepen the partnership between both institutions and the community, while offering significant advantages to local student-athletes. To ensure the financial sustainability of both the men’s and women’s programs, a fundraising initiative has begun and will be expanded.

This rodeo program underscores the broader commitment by CR and Cal Poly Humboldt to expand academic and extracurricular offerings and to provide diverse opportunities to students.

Cal Poly Humboldt President Tom Jackson, Jr. says, “Since 2019, our two institutions have been strategizing about the implementation of a rodeo program that provides a home for our local students to compete in a championship environment. That time has come, and we are excited about the future of collegiate rodeo in Humboldt County.”

College of the Redwoods President Keith Flamer is very excited to partner with Cal Poly Humboldt to bring collegiate rodeo to the area: “I am very proud of our partnership with Cal Poly Humboldt to create these rodeo programs. This collaboration offers a wonderful opportunity to elevate college rodeo in our area and create new pathways for student-athletes to pursue their academic and rodeo dreams.”

Reception for artists at Arcata gallery

ARCATA ARTISANS
ARCATA PLAZA – Arcata Artisans welcomes all to visit and experience recent work by painter Joyce Jonte’ and ceramic artist Lou Marak during July.

A reception for these featured artists is planned for the Second Saturday, July 13 from 4 to 6 p.m. at the gallery, located at 883 H St. on the Arcata Plaza.

This cooperative, member-owned and operated local artist gallery, features their newest member, Art Professor Emeritus Lou Marak and his complex, unique ceramic sculptures. Originally from Oklahoma, Marak earned his art degrees in both Illinois and New York, before heading west to teach at Humboldt State University. Along with his teaching, Marak has shown his sculptures through numerous galleries both in the U.S. and abroad.

His works are in the permanent collection of the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, the Henry Art Gallery in Seattle, the Oakland Museum in Oakland and the Morris Graves Museum of Art in Eureka among many other museums.

Also featured in July is local artist Joyce Jonte’, well known in Humboldt County for her bold, expressive florals and her elegant life drawings/paintings of many local models.

CUMBRE Humboldt names Reach Your Star scholarship winners

Lucy Salazar
CUMBRE HUMBOLDT
HUMBOLDT – CUMBRE Humboldt is proud to announce its Spring 2024 Reach Your Star/Alcanza tu Estrella Scholarship winners. These 10 winners are following their dreams through a wide range of exciting educational paths. This group of 10 winners makes a total of 50 scholarships that CUMBRE Humboldt has distributed to Latinx students since 2021!

We are especially appreciative of Coast Central Credit Union, who have made several donations over the years, including covering all 10 of our Spring winners again this year. CCCU Branch Manager Sarah Hiller has been especially supportive of our efforts to encourage these impressive leaders and role models. Our fall round of 10 Reach Your Star scholarships will be coming up soon, and any and all donations are welcome and can be made at cumbrehumboldt.org.

Here are our winners' goals and aspirations, in their own words:

Mariela Telix Lozano
Social Work major at Cal Poly Humboldt
As a mother of three children, I want to be able to get a good career so that my children and I can have a good life and so that I can be a good role model for them. As a first-generation college student furthering my education means that I am breaking many generational cycles. I hope to graduate with my Masters in Social work and get a job as a public school social worker. I also want to obtain my Personnel Pupil Service Credential so that I can work at a public school as a social worker. I also hope to eventually get my LCSW.

Shairy Jimenez Delgado
Academic Research in Psychology with a focus in Neuroscience at Cal Poly Humboldt
One of my academic goals is to expand the area of research at the intersection of behavioral endocrinology and social cognition. I am motivated in exploring how our hormones interact with our social environment to affect our perception, cognition, and behavior. I aspire to conduct independent research in this area by pursuing a Ph.D after I complete my Master's degree. Continuing my education is incredibly important to me because it positions me to advocate for diversity, equity, and inclusion in higher education. To me, having the privilege to conduct research and navigate the world of academia comes with the responsibility to advocate for the inclusion of individuals who have been historically excluded from higher education and to help others follow their passion and thrive in a safe environment.

Josue Alva Morales
Automotive Technology major at College of the Redwoods

I want to finish my career as mechanic and then go to 4-year university for a nutrition degree. Winning this award will give me the reassurance I need to pursue my educational goals with renewed confidence. Feeling supported in this way will empower me to overcome any obstacles and continue my academic journey with determination. Ultimately, this award will play a pivotal role in ensuring that I can pursue my education with confidence and enthusiasm.

Diego Luis Aguilar-Bautista
Automotive Technology emphasis at Universal Technical Institute (UTI) in Sacramento
I will attend UTI and then come back and do two years at College of the Redwoods. I plan to become an Automotive Technician with one day being able to own and run my own auto shop. Furthering my education is important to me because I want to be able to achieve and work in my career I have planned for. I want to be able to have a good living while doing the job that I know, and that I enjoy doing. My parents fought hard for me to have the opportunity to further my education and finish school, which they weren't able to do.

Maria Williamson
Nursing major at Chico State University
I will be studying as a pre-nursing major this fall. Once completing the pre-requisites, I will then apply for the Nursing Program. I will need a Bachelor's in Science and Nursing (BSN) to become the level of Nurse I want to be. Upon graduating Nursing school, I plan to specialize in Trauma and work in the E.R. of a Hospital. To do this, I need to become trauma certified after becoming a registered nurse.

Kiara Leon Melchor
Nursing major at College of the Redwoods
My career goals are to become a full-time traveling nurse and maybe in the future to become a nurse practitioner. I want to be a pediatric nurse and the main reason for me to become one was my brother having a surgery as a baby. That is what inspired me to take this career path.

Maryanne Casas-Perez
Journalism Major at Cal Poly Humboldt
I have always wanted to write and find the truth. A Journalism degree is a career I see myself in for the long term and I love to learn. It's important for me to be one of the people who inform the public of things that happen in their community. Cal Poly Humboldt and the Journalism Department have helped me find my passion and with an education I can later help others find theirs too. I want to continue to work for my local newspaper El Leñador and become an editor in chief. I want to continue the mission of our paper and learn leadership skills. Once I complete my degree, I am planning on going to law school. My ultimate goal is to be a journalism advisor like my mentor.

Carmen Benavides-Garb
Critical Race, Gender and Sexuality Studies (CRGS) Major with an Ethnic Studies pathway and a Political Science major with a Law and Policy Concentration at Cal Poly Humboldt

A career goal of mine is to become an immigration lawyer and serve my community and defend the rights of immigrants. I want to become an immigration rights lawyer, and I want to specialize in human rights violations. I want to use my skills of being bilingual and biliterate to aid immigrants coming from Spanish speaking countries (i.e. Latin America). I also would like to be based in Humboldt County, where I was born and raised, because I know resources are scarce for the immigration community here. My advocacy and passion for social justice come from a place of love I have for the immigrant community as I am a first-generation American.

Julio Guimaraes
Leadership Studies Major at Cal Poly Humboldt
I've been working in the food industry for almost 20 years. My specialty is food safety and I work in a company to provide senior frozen meals for Meals on Wheels program. My goal is to achieve a Master's degree in Food Safety after I graduate at Cal Poly Humboldt. Education is my opportunity to give a better life to my family. I'm a father of four children and I truly believe that my example will influence my children to value education, as well.

Edwin Arguelles-Diaz
Forestry Major at College of the Redwoods
I also hope to be a Smoke-jumper for CalFire, to help fight wildfires. It's a great opportunity to travel the state and assist at major incidents. I think that's pretty rewarding, knowing that we are a direct impact on the overall health and security of the forests that we as people love so much. After earning my degree, I'd like to start working as a forester to make sure our forests are healthy. Eventually I would take the knowledge that I have acquired from the Cal-Fire Academy at College of the Redwoods to hopefully move up the ranks within the organization. If I cannot do that I'd love to switch over to the U.S Forest Service and continue the same work of being a firefighter but, instead at a nationwide scale.

All Seasons Orchestra's summertime standards, Joel Stratte-McClure swims the Seine for safety

The All Seasons Orchestra will bring "Standards for the Summertime" to Trinidad Town Hall on Sunday, July 21 at 2 p.m. Garrick Woods, professor of music at Cal Poly Humboldt, will conduct the enthusiastic musicians who practice and prepare their wide repertoire of tunes all through the year and bring their music, free of charge, to Trinidad in the summer. Donations, of course, are welcome at the door. Trinidad is fortunate that so much talent from all over the county bring their gift of music to the town's 1917 wooden hall with its beautiful acoustics. There also is a concert on Sunday, July 14 at 2 p.m. at Eureka Woman's Club, 1531 J St., Eureka. A bit of trivia that is of interest: Frank Georgeson was the architect of both historic buildings in the early 20th century. He paid attention to the quality of sound resonating in redwood interiors. Leadership for the All Seasons Orchestra includes Concert Master Holly MacDonell, Manager Don Bicknell, and Librarian Susan Bicknell. For more information, email don.w.bicknell@gmail.com or call (707) 599-4691. Trinidad Civic Club's hostesses Dana Hope and Barbara Cline, will offer refreshments during intermission. Joel Stratte-McClure makes big splash in Paris Author, journalist and adventurer Joel Stratte-McClure lives in Redding and Trinidad when he is not venturing around the world. The author of The Idiot and The Odyssey: One Man's Walk Around the Mediterranean Sea made a big splash in Paris on July 4 when he swam the Seine "to insure it will be safe for triathletes during the upcoming Summer Olympics." French President Emmanuel Macron and Paris Mayor Anne Hidalgo have been making efforts for years to clean up the polluted river in time to make the water safe for Olympic swimmers. The Wall Street Journal retold a story reported by Nicolas Garriga for the Associated Press from Paris: "A 75-year-old American swimmer took a dip in the Seine River on Thursday, braving the murky waters in central Paris to celebrate the Fourth of July and highlight the French government's efforts to clean up the river for the Olympic Games. He had good timing: Hours later, regional authorities released data showing water quality in the river improved over the past week, raising hopes it can host Olympic swimming events after all." Garriga spoke to Stratte-McClure before he entered the water: "I may regret having swum, but if I come back alive, it will prove that the French have done a good job cleaning up the river." It was not Joel Stratte-McClure's first dip in the Seine. In 1976 he swam at the same spot "to find a holy gargoye." Stratte-McClure's accomplished and adventurous family members have been a part of Trinidad life for decades. Several members of the extended family are commemorated at the Memorial Wall at Trinidad Bay Memorial Park, including his journalist-world traveling mother, Helen Oppegard Stratte (1919-2022) and his stepfather, Dr. Paul Stratte, who died in 1989. Sarah Schaefer announces bid

COMMITTEE TO REELECT SARAH SCHAEFER, ARCATA CITY COUNCIL 2024 Sarah Schaefer has been serving on the City Council since 2020 and is excited to announce the launch of her reelection campaign. "I am honored to serve my community that I was born and raised in, and I want to continue the work I am doing for the next generation of Arcata." Sarah is a history teacher and school administrator who has always had a deep sense of purpose related to public service and a strong connection to her community here in Arcata. During her tenure on Council she has served as Mayor and Vice-Mayor as well as serving as chair of the Redwood Coast Energy Authority board and Co-Chair of the Equity Arcata board. Sarah is not only an active councilmember with strong working relationships with city staff and community partners but is engaged in regional work for Humboldt County through participation in local boards. Through numerous study sessions and special meetings on the Gateway Area and General Plan, Sarah has proven her ability as Mayor to lead and facilitate discussion in a meaningful and productive way. Sarah has strongly supported policies to generate housing and protect tenants in Arcata. This includes championing infill to protect our natural areas and agricultural lands and supporting the City's rental assistance and rental inspection programs. Sarah brings the perspective as a renter to the City Council and wants to continue to work on issues that are important to renters in Arcata.

She is also an advocate for active transportation in Arcata, helping adopt the City's complete streets policy and enhance the City's bike lanes and trail network. Sarah knows that sustainable transportation options will help Arcata battle climate change and improve the livability of our community. Sarah is endorsed early on by other local elected officials including Humboldt County Supervisors Mike Wilson and Natalie Arroyo. When asked about working with Schaefer, Arroyo said, "It's a pleasure to work with Sarah on regional issues of significance. She is deft and conscientious when navigating big challenges, and leads with great skill. I trust her to keep doing an awesome job for Arcata and the redwood coast!" Schaefer also has endorsements from Redwood Coalition for Climate & Environmental Responsibility (RCCER), Colin Fiske of the Coalition for Responsible Transportation Priorities (CRTP), and Tom Wheeler and Matt Simmons of the Environmental Protection Information Center (EPIC) showing her commitment to sustainability and environmental efforts. Colin Fiske of CRTP state that "Sarah is a thoughtful and effective leader with a strong record of putting Arcata's social and environmental values into action." According to Sarah, "I am launching my reelection because I want to continue to serve Arcata and work to bring more varied and affordable housing options, economic development opportunities, and sustainable transportation to the Arcata Community."

Leveraging local strengths in the JCS school garden with Sue Moore

Gardens and children need the same things – patience, love and someone who will never give up on them.

– Nicolette Sowder, creator of Wildschooling, a form of home-schooling that incorporates an interconnected view of nature.

School gardens are a wonderful way to teach children about where their food comes from, wildlife, weather, water conservation and more. But how possible is it to speak directly to the climate change in today’s politically charged world? Which students participate? This is the second part of my interview with Sue Moore who is directing the Jacoby Creek school garden. This article is edited for clarity and length.

Dana Utman: How many children participate in the school garden?

Sue Moore: We normally have had up to 50 children in gardening clubs per quarter in the fall and spring. They are very hard workers. I like multi-age groups, and I like the fact that they become independent and solve their own problems. That to me is ideal teaching. It was how I learned project-based learning. We’ve had TK, kindergarten, first grade, second grade and third grade come out on a regular basis. But we have had other higher grades as well. Sometimes sixth grade comes to the garden for reading.

The design of the garden when the school was a charter (until 2015) was actually pretty impressive. The charter was a document that should have been instantiated (according to the Merriam-Webster Dictionary it means to represent an abstraction by a concrete instance), because it did in fact play a great part in the classes to incorporate elements of the natural world – native plants and birds. I think the district could have been a leader in the environmental [movement].

One of the problems with school gardens is the way in which funding works. California probably needs to listen a bit more to what we can do in small scale ways, rather than always rolling out these big grants that are often top down. They need to look at each school, and what each school can accomplish.

I think every school, for example, should have bird feeders, and some native shrubs; and the children can learn from wherever they are. It’s not just having the garden for food. I would think the models of California ecology would be to look at where you live, the skills and strengths that you have in your community, not just in your school.

For example, I’m very impressed that in San Diego there are some community gardens where Vietnamese families grow medicinal plants. It’s not cookie cutter. Schools are very bad at asking people what they would like to see, because they don’t actually want to do it, or it’s in conflict with the institution. I think the school gardens are naturally predisposed to look at the community and ask: What do you want, what would you value, what do you think we should be doing? In the first grade, pollinators and butterflies are really important in the curriculum. We use the garden to talk about the ecosystem, to talk about pollinators and butterflies. So we plant butterfly flowers.

What kind of feedback have you received from the children? What do you hope kids will learn and take away with them?

A very important thing for the children, and a part of the gardening, has been to listen to them – what they like to eat, plant, colors, and what interests them, because then they are more interested and engaged. That actually guides how we plan. For example, they love cucumbers, peas, apples, plums, and peaches; and they like to make salad. They like the flowers, because they are beautiful, and they can draw them.

The other day I didn’t have to say anything about putting things away. They knew exactly what to do. Everything was done, finished up and put away. They’ve learned through the process what was needed. The kids will probably always remember the gardens, and when they get older, be inspired to continue [gardening].

Do you think teaching about climate change should be a priority? How do you integrate what you teach in the outside garden to the indoor student classroom studies?

I don’t teach in the classroom. When we talk about climate change it’s very practical. We might talk about the fact that the garden is being terribly impacted by the increase in wind. The children know that the reason we have trellises that are reinforced on the west end portion is because the wind broke them. We had to re-engineer all the boxes at the front of the garden, so they’re all double height, because of the wind. I couldn’t understand what was happening to my seedlings. All the new boxes are doubled in height because we have to protect the seedlings from the wind just to get them to grow. We have more and more native plants and shrubs that have to withstand the salt because the wind is increasing, and we have to naturally protect against that.

The wetland pond one year went dry, and the children asked: “Miss Sue what happened?” There was no water, so the children knew that we need to save our own rainwater. We have rainwater barrels off the back of the shed, and we have pickle barrels [to store water] all the way around the gardens.

The wind is stripping the moisture and nutrients out of the soil.

We have to maintain the moisture in the soil and maintain the nutrients through soil amendments, so we put rice straw over the soil. We also keep the sunlight off the roots because the sunlight is increasing. Several summers were very hot, and the big impact there wasn’t just the heat, it was the fire. We had ash dropping that was actually burning all the squash. The ash actually changes the soil to make it more alkaline or acidic.

So I suppose when it comes to climate change, what I tell them is, we can’t predict. I can’t say the wind’s getting stronger, I can say it’s more unpredictable. We might have an occasional anomaly, and you have to find ways of adapting to that. Or sometimes you can’t adapt because you lose your whole crop. All I can predict is everything is going to change constantly. The winds can be awful and make me not want to be in there. It is literally exhausting being in that place when the winds are blowing. The winds are now later and more sustained, and we have some really strong gusts in the winter. I actually set up a climate change study in the garden because it’s a coastal exposed spot where we know the impact of climate change is going to be.

I was out in the garden last week on Thursday afternoon, and we had a pair of bald eagles fly over the garden. Children absolutely love the birds. They like bird feeders and the sunflowers [that the birds eat]. They count the seeds to see how many are in a sunflower head. I think it’s the connectedness that’s the most important part. This is why we have the garden.

From little seeds, grow mighty trees. – Unknown

Outer Roominations artfest intertwines human art with natural beauty

Outer Roominations is a yearly outdoor art festival on Table Bluff that celebrates playful and evocative encounters with nature beginning in 2021.

During the long COVID Winter of 2020, Andrew Goff spent much of his time clearing trails on the over 10 acres where he lives with other artists on Table Bluff. The artist friends who launched the project wanted to be able to share art and gather safely after over a year of isolation. There had been few opportunities for artists to make money, so they also wanted artists to get paid for their work. I remember being thrilled to be able to do something outside and awestruck by the playful and deeply thoughtful nature of the art. It seemed a revelation that we could wander through this beautiful land overlooking the ocean, encountering pockets of art along the way. Outer Roominations has since become one of my favorite events in Humboldt.

This year, Outer Roominations appeared in the mists on the bluff July 5, 6 and 7. For a sliding scale donation of $20 to $40 plus $5 per car for parking, festival goers spent all day hiking the trails to interact with the installations of over 20 different artists, including local favorites such as Blake Reagan, Nancy Tobin, Andrew Goff and Laura Corsiglia. While on the trail, they might be serenaded by Bandemonium, Medicine Baul or Old Viego Bones.

❖ ALL THINGS ART
Ruthi Engelke

Guests were encouraged to bring picnics to enjoy while relaxing to music on the newly built stage. Goff said that last year they were literally adding the final boards to the stage as the first act went up. Twelve different bands graced that stage this year, including Kevin Dockery, Hermit Crab and the Ponies of Harmony.

Building that stage and the other permanent fixtures on the property gave the feel of a more traditional event, even though the experience is quite unique. Where else can you encounter devilish red tree-like structures, created by Lucas Thorton, that can be used to play a ring-toss game? Or take a nap in an enchanted, cozy spot made out of billowy textiles? Or swing in a love seat suspended from a tree?

Some installations have continued to evolve every year and some are temporary. Gus Clark has dreamed up colorful, ethereal totems over multiple events. There is also a giant blue sphere and a bank of colorful pyramid-like structures on the property.

Many of the pockets of art were interactive. Holly Hilgenberg of Stained Ghost created a “Web of Joy” at last year’s Outer Roominations.

For this piece, participants were encouraged to write what brought them joy on small pieces of paper and adhere them to a surface, and to then use yarn connecting their “piece of joy” to other’s they felt some kinship to. This year, Hilgenberg shared “Temple of the Earth,” as an interactive art installation. Hilgenberg sees this as a way to “experience the magic of community art in nature.”

This year’s Outer Roominations was dedicated to the memory of David Boston, who passed away suddenly and unexpectedly, and his example of how to live merrily. For decades, Boston had been a jolly, encouraging presence in the local art scene. He was an avid photographer, artist cheerleader and promoter of all things creative, who, in recent years, had served as president of the Redwood Arts Association and also found time to add his sculptural flourishes to the Table Bluff landscape out at Outer Roominations. The organizers invited guests to come romp around and get dirty. Everyone who knew David agreed this is what he would have done.

Goff clears new trails every year and foresees more events to come. “The times when I am doing something that I haven’t seen before is when I am the most energized,” he says.

Outer Roominations is a DreamMaker Project of the Ink People. You can follow them on Instagram and see more of the art @outer.roominations.

And make sure to be on the lookout for Outer Ruminations 2025!

Stacy Atkins-Salazar announces her candidacy for City Council re-election

STACY ATKINS-SALAZAR CAMPAIGN

Arcata City Councilwoman Stacy Atkins-Salazar is announcing her candidacy for re-election to the Arcata City Council. Atkins-Salazar was elected to a four-year term in 2020. During her term, she has served as both Vice-Mayor and Mayor, and as the council liaison to the Homeless and Housing Working Group, Cal Poly Humboldt and for the COVID-19 Economic Recovery Collaborative.

Additionally, Atkins-Salazar represents Arcata on the Humboldt County Association of Governments (HCAOG) and has served on its Executive Committee since 2021. She has also served as Humboldt County’s representative on the California County Association of Governments (CALCOG) since 2022. Stacy has represented Arcata at the League of California Cities, Redwood Empire Division since 2022, and currently serves as Second Vice-President.

“Arcata is a beautiful and unique community filled with diverse people who share one very important value; we love our town! With its multitude of parks and natural resources, unique local businesses, a growing university and small-town character, there is so much to appreciate,” says Atkins-Salazar.

Atkins-Salazar was born and raised in Humboldt County. She graduated from Humboldt State University (now Cal Poly Humboldt) with a master’s degree in psychology. After teaching at College of the Redwoods for several years, she opened a small business in Arcata, which continues to thrive after 24 years. Stacy and her husband, Andy, raised their family in Arcata. In 2020, Stacy ran for city council “to help our community find common ground so that we could navigate the challenges of that difficult time together.”

After serving on council for a while and listening to what the key issues and concerns were, Atkins-Salazar focused her efforts on building affordable housing, growing Arcata’s parks, trails and open spaces, and maintaining and improving the city’s infrastructure and financial stability. Stacy also worked to solve some long-standing issues in the community.

Atkins-Salazar proposed starting a Community Ambassadors Program to address on-going concerns from community members and small business owners in and around the Plaza. She won support from fellow council members and helped design the program which has made a positive impact on the Plaza and downtown area by helping visitors, unhoused people and business owners with a variety of needs while keeping our public spaces clean. Atkins-Salazar would now like to see the program expand to other areas of Arcata, such as Valley West.

Using American Rescue Plan Act funds, in 2022 the city council initiated a Safe Parking Pilot Program and awarded a contract for operations to the Arcata House Partnership. This extremely successful program served families and individuals who were living in their vehicles by giving them a safe place to park while working on their housing goals. Residents had access to charging stations, bathrooms and meals. People participating in the program had access to case management services, assistance with application for benefits and connection/referral to other community resources. Atkins-Salazar supports finding new funding sources to continue this effective program.

Looking towards the next four years, Atkins-Salazar said, “I will continue to consider the struggling climate and our planet in every single decision I make and vote I take.” Stacy will also continue to support policies and programs that will create more affordable housing, protect and grow the city’s parks, trails, open spaces and working agricultural lands and ensure a robust infrastructure during her next term.

“When Stacy first ran for city council, my husband, Glenn, and I asked many questions. Stacy listened respectfully and responded with honesty and sincere conviction.

Since 2020, I’ve seen Stacy’s love for Arcata and her desire to serve ALL our community members shine through, as she passionately addresses our community’s economic, environmental, social needs and more! Beyond her countless hours fulfilling council member duties, I often see Stacy fully engaged, listening and supporting our community at CPH and AHS events, community clean-ups, festivals, meetings, memorials, vigils, rallies and runs. Stacy’s compassion and dedication to our community serves us well,” said Romi Hitchcock-Tinseth, Faculty, Cal Poly Humboldt, Communication Department.

Third District Humboldt County Supervisor Mike Wilson said, “I’ve had the privilege of working with Stacy on numerous city, county and regional initiatives. Whether addressing affordable housing, climate action or safe streets, Stacy is a dedicated and diligent council member who thoroughly researches and considers diverse perspectives. As a mother, teacher and business owner she demonstrates a profound commitment to fostering a flourishing and welcoming Arcata.”

“Stacy Atkins-Salazar is a rare, extraordinarily skilled leader who fully embodies integrity. Her agenda is all about transparent public service at the highest level. Stacy is a “git-r-done right” person with extraordinary communication skills; she compassionately listens while sharing realities, practical matters and possible solutions regarding any challenge. She builds quality relationships with people in our city, county and state to serve the people of Arcata at the highest capacity. Stacy Atkins-Salazar is a breath of fresh air,” said Jayce Walker, owner, Eco-Groovy Deals in Arcata.

Former State Senator, and current coordinator of Equity Arcata Home Away from Home, Wesley Chesbro said, “Stacy has shown a commitment to continuing and building on what’s great about Arcata, while working to meet the challenges of climate change, affordable housing and sustainable growth.”

“Serving on the Arcata City Council has given me even more appreciation for our community. The diversity of views in Arcata contributes greatly to our strength and I will continue to find common ground in the issues that challenge us,” said Atkins-Salazar. “I am extremely proud of all we have accomplished, and I am enthusiastic to continue working with our community for thoughtful, equitable and climate friendly policies to keep Arcata unique, strong and thriving. I would appreciate your vote on November 5th.”

‘Standards for the Summertime’

ALL SEASONS ORCHESTRA

EUREKA – All Seasons Orchestra invites you to our summer performance! Enjoy the sounds of summer on a musical afternoon with All Seasons Orchestra.

Two free concerts will be performed on Saturday, July 14 at 2 p.m. at the Eureka Woman’s Club, 1531 J St. in Eureka, and another performance on Sunday, July 21 at 2 p.m., at the Trinidad Town Hall, 409 Trinity St., Trinidad.

“Standards for the Summertime” will be presented by Musical Director/Conductor Garrick Woods, professor of music at Cal Poly Humboldt, and Concert Master, Holly MacDonell.

A collection of favorites will delight listeners of all ages. Our performance features seven nostalgic tunes. Two theatrical medleys from Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein’s The Sound of Music and Oklahoma! This award-winning duo were highly innovative and influential on Broadway during the 1940s and 1950s. That was the “golden age of musical theater” which most of us still enjoy over 8 decades later.

Then, the perfect complement is Aaron Copland’s Hoe-Down. Copland was known to rearrange American folk songs to make them his own, and this arrangement is highly recognizable and sure to please.

You will remember Calvin Custer’s Selections from Phantom of the Opera by Andrew Lloyd Webber. Phantom was the longest running show in Broadway history, having celebrated 10,000 performances, and seen by over 140 million people around the world.

Also, we have Cole Porter’s Begin the Beguine, inspired by a Pacific cruise he took in 1935 to Fiji Island where the song eventually became popular on Broadway. A bit if trivia: “Beguine” is a dance and music form, similar to a slow rhumba!

And no one can resist Ted Ricketts’ tribute to Louis Armstrong in the medley, Satchmo! Even if you have never heard of Ricketts, you may certainly recognize all the hundreds of arrangements he has produced over the decades. Currently, he is the Music Director and Producer for Walt Disney World.

Swing back in time to indulge in Antonio Rossini’s comic opera, The Barber of Seville. Written in 1816, even after 200 it is still one of the greatest masterpieces of “opera buaa” or comedy opera.

Community and student musicians of all ages are invited to join All Seasons Orchestra. Auditions are not required. If you are interested in joining, call Don Bicknell at All Seasons Orchestra at (707) 599-4691, or don.w.bicknell@gmail.com. AllSeasonsOrchestra.org

Speeder rides, live music at Annie & Mary Day

Janine Volkmar
MAD RIVER UNION
BLUE LAKE – The 55th Annual Annie & Mary Day in Blue Lake welcomes an actual piece of history this year. On Sunday, July 14 railroad tracks will be laid in front of City Hall and a Speeder Car that was Arcata & Mad River No. 60 will run on the tracks for folks to ride on, thanks to the volunteers of the Timber Heritage Association.

“No one knows the actual date but it was built in the early to mid-1930s, in the house by the mill in Korbelt,” Jacob Cowan said. Cowan is a board member of the association and head of their mechanical department. “Timber Heritage is 100 percent volunteer based and it’s so much fun,” he added.

Rides start after the parade and cost $5 with one dollar of each ride donated to Blue Lake’s Parks and Recreation fund. Kids under 5 ride for free.

Cowan is thrilled that the portable tracks will be bolted together where the original railroad tracks ran. Rides will also be available on Saturday, July 13 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

(The Arcata and Mad River Railroad is California Historical Landmark number 842, the first railroad on the California North Coast.)

The rides are just one part of a day of celebration in the sunshine that is always Blue Lake.

The parade starts at 11 a.m. and winds its way through two major streets, giving lots of curbside viewing spots. Look for clowns in funny cars, ponies, stilt walkers, floats, musicians, The Old Crows, The Ladies of the Lake, a drinking society, and, of course, Annie & Mary. Grand Marshalls this year, while still a secret, are a much beloved Blue Lake couple. New this year is a Fan Favorite award.

Bill Nessler’s Car Show offers a close-up view of restored and vintage automobiles along Railroad Avenue but please, no touching!

The Blue Lake Museum volunteers will sell coffee, pie, and baked goods in front of the museum starting at 9 a.m. Visit the inside of this terrific museum housed in the old railroad depot from 1 to 4 p.m.

After the parade, the festivities move to Perigot Park where food, libations, over 50 crafts vendors, a raffle, activities for kids, and music all take place from noon until 5 p.m..

The Blue Lake Chamber of Commerce which sponsors

sors the whole shebang will raffle off donated prizes of all types. Blue Lake Mayor Adelene Jones always does a great job of signing up a wide variety of vendors and craftspeople.

Music, organized by the Humboldt Folklife Society, starts at noon in the park with the line-up (in order) including All Wheel Drive, Bayou Swamis, Compost Mountain Boys, and Dead On. Perigot Park has both shade and sun and the absolutely softest grass for dancing in the county.

The Wonder Wagon, a project of the Arcata Playhouse, will offer art projects, bubbles, hula hoops, and ribbon sticks for kids. Look for the truck with the big red clown nose.

Want to be part of the parade? All are welcome. Just download a participant application from the chamber’s website, sunny-bluelake.com.

And get costume-ready for the parade by attending workshops at Trash Mash-Up, offered by two sisters Bridget and Jessica McCracken. They are Dell’Arte alums who have “traveled the world” giving workshops that incorporate unwanted and discarded objects into “maskostumes.” Their free drop-in workshops will be held July 8 through 11 from 12:30 to 2 p.m. at Dell’Arte. No need to register but minors must be accompanied by an adult. For more information, email trashmashup@gmail.com.

So bring your (low) chairs, your sunblock, your appetite, but, please, no dogs, to a town that knows how to party!

Proof arrives that Annie & Mary existed

Janine Volkmar
MAD RIVER UNION
BLUE LAKE – For all those naysayers out there who don’t believe in the story of Annie and Mary, proof has arrived.

The Blue Lake Museum has just received a gift of an actual photograph of Annie Carroll and Mary Buckley. Mary’s great-niece, Nancy Buckley Hansen, found the photograph in a family album and donated it to the museum.

The black and white photo depicts the two railroad employees greeting travelers at the Arcata station.

For years, the story has been that a conductor on the Arcata and Mad River Railroad made a joke about the women’s first names starting with the same letters as the railroad and called it the Annie and Mary Railroad.

Some folks believed and some scoffed.

In the book Where’s the Lake? Stories of Blue Lake and the Mad River Valley, published by the museum in 2019, local historian Mariel Morrison wrote a fascinating chapter on the railroad’s birth, including the cars being drawn by horses before there were steam engines. It’s worth a deeper read but briefly, Morrison said that conductor Charlie Crowden “was a great tease.”

She relates that Annie was the bookkeeper at the Korbelt station and Mary was bookkeeper at the Arcata depot, now Jacoby’s Storehouse. “He called the train after the two women and the name stuck.”

Still, like Bigfoot, some believed and some didn’t.

Larella Moore, who has walked the parade dressed as Mary, even said, “I thought they were apocryphal.”

Now when you see the Annies and the Marys leading the parade, be sure to call out, “I believe!”

Humboldt Folklife Festival all next week

HUMBOLDT FOLKLIFE SOCIETY
BLUE LAKE – Humboldt Folklife Society invites the public to the Humboldt Folklife Festival, scheduled for Sunday, July 13 through Saturday, July 20 in Blue Lake. The Folklife Festival is a showcase for the many talented local musicians who live here in Humboldt County. This year’s festival comprises six different events in July. Sunday, July 14 is Annie & Mary Day with free music starting at Perigot Park at noon. The concert features All Wheel Drive, Bayou Swamis, Compost Mountain Boys and Dead On. Tuesday July 16 is the Songwriter Showcase, featuring John Ludington, Sari Baker and Jeff Smoller, Melanie

Barnett, and Xeff Scolari. Showtime is 7:30 p.m. inside the Carlo Theater at Dell’Arte in Blue Lake.

Wednesday, July 17 is Under the Stars, featuring Kray Van Kirk, Rise and Bloom, and festival favorites Huckleberry Flint. This show starts at 6 p.m. and is outside in the Amphitheatre at Dell’Arte in Blue Lake.

Thursday, July 18 is Bluegrass and Beyond with Ruby Ruth and Mule Ranch, Elderberry Rust, and Cadillac Ranch. This show also starts at 6 p.m. and is outside in the Amphitheatre at Dell’Arte.

Friday July 19 is the traditional Barn Dance at the Prash Hall from 7 to 10 p.m. with host band Cidermill and caller Lyndsey Battle. No partner or experience is needed. Tickets for the Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday shows, as well as the Barn Dance are available at tickettailor.com/events/humboldtfolklifesociety. Saturday July 20 is the All Day Free Festival (by donation) back at Dell’Arte in Blue Lake, featuring Blue Lake Choir, Hill Honey and the Wildcats, Zera Starchild, A Banjo Makes 3, Anna Hamilton Trio, Vanishing Pints, Huayllipacha, Thurston Hawk, Lalona, Lxs Perdixs, Joanne Rand & Wild Mountain Thyme, Sequoia Rose, SoHum Girls, Kindred Spirits, Kingfoot and the Beatles Singalong. Admission is free. humboldtfolklife.com

Carl Avery at Blue Lake Casino Hotel

BLUE LAKE CASINO HOTEL
BLUE LAKE – Blue Lake Casino Hotel is thrilled to announce a special viewing event featuring the extraordinary works of Native American artist Carl Avery. The event will take place on Thursday, July 11 from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., in the newly remodeled Redwood Gallery of Blue Lake Casino Hotel. Jason Ramos, CEO/Tribal Administrator of Blue Lake Rancheria, expressed his enthusiasm: “We are honored to showcase the works of Carl Avery as the first of many local Native American artists featured in our newly renovated Redwood Gallery. Carl’s art not only beautifies spaces but also tells the important stories of our culture and heritage.” Avery, a self-taught artist since 2007, has made a name for himself through his captivating murals, intricate logo designs, and a successful online platform where he showcases and sells his Native American art and prints. Growing up on the Hupa reservation, Carl’s work is deeply influenced by nature and cultural designs, offering a unique and authentic voice in the art world. More about Carl Avery and his work can be found online at Carl Avery Studios, carlaverystudios.com/. For the past decade, Carl has been painting murals throughout Northern California, using his public art to infuse native traditions into contemporary spaces. His pieces are not just artworks but a visual connection to Native American heritage, focusing on nature and creating vibrant, inclusive environments for all visitors. Attendees will have the opportunity to meet Carl, discuss his inspirations, and gain insights into his creative process.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF MARY KATHLEEN ANDERSON CASE NO.: PR2400040 To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: MARY KATHLEEN ANDERSON

A Petition for Probate has been filed by KATHLEEN BAKER in the Superior Court of California, County of HUMBOLDT. The Petition for Probate requests that: KATHLEEN BAKER be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take any actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows:

Date: AUG. 1, 2024 Time: 1:31 PM Dept.: 4 Address of court: Superior Court of California, County of Humboldt, 825 Fifth Street, Eureka, CA, 95501.

COURT MAY BE CLOSED TO THE PUBLIC DUE TO THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC. PLEASE VISIT https://www.humboldt.courts.ca.gov FOR INFORMATION ON HOW TO PARTICIPATE IN AN ONLINE VIDEO HEARING.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a formal Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Cal Poly affiliates with Bee Campus USA to help create conditions for pollinator well-being

CAL POLY HUMBOLDT
CAL POLY HUMBOLDT – Cal Poly Humboldt has become an affiliate of the Bee Campus USA program, which was created to unite the resources of colleges and universities to help support the well-being of pollinators.

"Our students, faculty, and staff have long been champions for sustainable environmental practices," said Morgan King, Humboldt's climate action analyst. "The Bee Campus USA designation underscores our contributions to a pollinator-friendly campus and to enhancing pollinator populations through education, restoration, events and adoption of non-toxic pest management practices."

Bee Campus USA is an initiative of the Xerces Society for Invertebrate Conservation, a nonprofit organization based in Portland, Ore., with offices across the country. Its mission is to inspire communities and campuses to sustain pollinators by providing them with healthy habitats, rich in a variety of native plants, and free of pesticides. Pollinators like bumblebees, honey bees, butterflies, beetles, hummingbirds and many others are responsible for the reproduction of almost 90 percent of the world's flowering plant species and one in every three bites of food people eat.

"The program aspires to make people more PC—pollinator conscious, that is," said Scott Hoffman Black, Xerces' executive director. "If lots of individuals and communities begin planting native, pesticide-free flowering trees, shrubs and perennials, it will help to sustain many, many species of pollinators."

Around the world, populations of bees and other pollinators are declining due to habitat loss, disease, pesticide use, and climate change.

According to King, the university is well on its way to improving the campus for pollinators. "We now have some pollinator-friendly gardens on campus and we are planning for more. Our Grounds Department is developing a pest management plan that will restrict the use of pesticides, and classes in multiple disciplines already offer service learning opportunities that enhance pollinators and their habitats."

Moving forward, the university's Landscape and Tree Advisory Committee will help lead ongoing pollinator-conservation efforts.

WATERFRONT WALK Redwood Region Audubon Society will offer a free guided birding tour along the Eureka Waterfront Trail on Sunday, July 14 from 9 to 11 a.m., with leader Ralph Bucher. This relatively urban trail offers the potential to observe species abundance and diversity compared to many more remote locations. Watch out for cormorants, loons, grebes and even otters diving for their meals in the bay alongside the trail. This walk is on a flat, paved trail that is wheelchair accessible. Email Ralph to sign up at thebook@reninet.com.

HUMBOLDT ROSE SOCIETY The Humboldt Rose Society invites the public to visit its rose garden while the garden is at the height of its summer bloom. The garden is at Redwood Acres Fairground, 3750 Harris St., Eureka. It is located at the north end of the fairground behind the livestock arena. The rose garden is open on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from noon to 5 p.m. There are numerous varieties of roses in the garden, each rose is labeled so you can find out the names of your favorites. You will have the opportunity to see and smell roses that do well in our climate. This is the perfect spot to find out which roses you would like in your garden. The Humboldt Rose Society Rose Garden is also available for special events and weddings. What could be more enchanting to have a wedding in a garden full of blooming roses? To learn about the garden or the society, call (707) 443-1284 or roseladygardener@yahoo.com, or visit humboldtrose.org. To rent the garden for a special event, contact Redwood Acres at (707) 445-3037 or jamie@redwoodacres.com.
